THE HONORED DEAD.

Central Park, New York, to be his Resting Place.

HE LONGED FOR DEATH'S COMING

The Funeral to Take Place on Saturday August 8—Extensive Preparations Being Made for Impressive Ceremonies—Etc

MOUNT MCGREGOR, July 24 —The one condition imposed by General Grant before he died upon those who should decide the place of his burial is the cause of delay in fixing the spot for his sepulture Mayor Grace's chief clerk Mr Turner is here and has been in consultation with Colonel Fred Grant He has formally and in person for Mayor Grace, urged the acceptance of a burial spot in any one of the parks of New York city There is strong feeling in the family of General Grant that the New York proposition is one that would have gratified the general but the condition that Mrs Grant might be buried beside the general is one that the mayor's representative cannot accede to, and telegraphic communication is now going on between here and New York on that point The president's messenger at 11 o'clock had not arrived, and when he does come and presents the invitation from the Soldiers Home it is not unlikely that the condition of General Grant relative to Mrs Grant being buried beside him will also then cause some delay pending a conference with others. The invitation from the city of Springfield Illinois, is not being seriously considered as yet, though before his death General Grant said of the three states in which he would desire to be buried, he preferred Illinois He indicated that Illinois having given him his first army commission he would be willing to be buried there, but there were two other spots, which he designated and one of them Washington is now under consideration. The third point that General Grant indicated was West Point, but he recognized at the time of his suggestion that West Point was a spot where his wife could not rest beside him, and that fact removed any possibility in the general's mind of his being buried there. It was afterward that the general relegated the entire matter of burial spot and funeral arrangements to Colonel Fred, who after conference with the family on all points, is now carrying forward the arrangements for his father's funeral It is now determined that the obsequies will begin at McGregor

THE NATION'S CLAIM RECOGNIZED

The family fully recognize the claims of the people and the nation to do honor to the remains of General Grant but there is a feeling that before all the pomp and pageant of the burial the family should have their dead all by themselves for a season of service The family would be alone when their funeral service is held, and before the remains go out to the people to mourn over Thus funeral ceremonies for the family will be held here in the cottage at such time as may be best Dr Newman will be with the family and conduct with them the services over the dead.

The president is anxious, and has so expressed himself by message, that there should be a national funeral, and that under direction and care of the war department, beginning when the remains are started from the mountain, and ending at the place of sepulture There will be over 200 representatives of Grand Army posts from various parts of the country here to-morrow They will camp in tents pitched on the mountain, and will take their meals on the hotel veranda.

Embalming will be completed to-day The cheeks and face by the process made use of, have been made to assume a fullness the deeper furrows and lines have been filled out and the expression of the face is now one of peace and rest On Monday the remains will be placed in a casket and the near friends will be permitted to view the remains

Senor Romero is with the family to-day as is also Dr Newman and his wife General Carr paid his respects at the cottage this morning

The disposition of the cottage in which General Grant died rests with Joseph W Drexel and the Associated Press is authorized to announce that the cottage will never again be occupied by any family or person Mr Drexel will, in due time, present it to the state or national government The house will be presented intact

REGARDING THE FUNERAL

There is now little doubt that General Grant's [illegible] to Central Park New York City. All that [illegible] in this is the assent of the authorities of that city to the dead general's condition which was that Mrs. Grant should rest beside him at last Telegraphic communication is now being conducted to adjust this matter Mayor Grace responds to inquiries that the city tenders the family a burial spot but this vague message does not seem to consider the condition of Mrs Grant's burial spot and the family and Colonel Grant are left in doubt as to the willingness of New York City to accede to the easily understood condition that Mrs Grant's sepulture must be in Central Park if the general is buried there, and so at the moment of this writing the matter hangs, and delay is the result The family and Colonel Grant have determined upon Central Park if the condition shall be complied with by the city If New York shall be the spot chosen, and there is little doubt that it will be settled this afternoon.

The programme of funeral arrangements will be as here given The remains will lie quietly at the cottage, in the room where the general died, until one week from Tuesday afternoon next, when the funeral cortege will be placed on a special train, and conveyed directly and without demonstration to Albany, reaching there in the evening The remains will be borne to the capitol, where they will lie in state until Wednesday noon and thence the dead general will be conveyed by the funeral train to New York arriving there Wednesday evening The body will then be conveyed to city hall where it will remain in state until Saturday when it will be borne to its last resting place in Central Park. All this programme is now prepared upon the assumption that the evident hitch in New York with reference to compliance with General Grant's condition touching interment of his wife shall be complied with

WILL REST IN CENTRAL PARK

This afternoon Mr Turner Mayor Grace's chief clerk, received a message which determined the question of Grant's burial place in favor of Central park, New York It was as follows

Your two telegrams to hand and I understand the matter now to be definitely settled that General Grant's body is now to be interred here We cannot take any more definite action in regard to the matter of Mrs Grant until a later date The faith of the president of the board of alderman and my own is pledged that we will see, when a little time has passed away that the wishes of the family are gratified by formal resolution of the board Answer immediately so I may appoint a committee to make a move for a grand national monument W R GRACE

THE ARRANGEMENTS

Upon receipt of Mayor Grace's telegram Mr Turner repaired at once to the cottage, where a conference was held with Colonel Fred Grant The colonel read the mayor's dispatch and returned it At the close of the conference Colonel Grant assured the mayor's representative that he and the family thus formally accepted the tender of a burial place for General Grant and Mrs Grant in Central park New York city and that he and the family would now proceed with all the funeral arrangements with reference to the above conclusions The mayor's messenger then telegraphed to Mayor Grace the result of his mission

Mr W J Arkell has arranged the following time table for the removal of the remains from Mt McGregor Leave Mt McGregor at 1 P M August 4 arrive at Saratoga at 2 P M, leave Saratoga at 2 30 P M arrive in Albany at 4.30 P M leave Albany at 12 o'clock noon Wednesday, August 5 and arrive at about 5.30 in New York. In the interval from 4 30 P M, Tuesday to noon of Wednesday, August [illegible] the remains will lie in state at the capitol and from the time of arrival in New York Wednesday afternoon until Saturday August 8 the body will lie in state at City hall. The obsequies will take place Saturday at such time as the civil authorities may arrange and interment will then follow in Central park

MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE

Many messages of condolence were received by the family this afternoon, and among them this

CHESTER A ARTHUR

A TALK WITH DOUGLAS

The General was Ready to Go as his Work was Completed

MT MCGREGOR July 24 While sitting on the hotel veranda this afternoon Dr Douglas chatted at length with the correspondent of the associated press about General Grant and of the long trial of suffering just ended

Do you remember asked Dr Douglas, "that during last week I said to you that there was a subsidence of the swelling in the overlying tissues on the right side of the neck and that I said on the day I spoke about it that I was able to examine the general's throat much deeper and with greater ease than in a long time Do you remember that "

His hearer recollected it clearly, and said so

"Well, then," resumed Dr Douglas "I am going to tell you of an experience I had with General Grant on the afternoon of Thursday, July 16, and at the time I had observed the indications about the throat, which I spoke of During the afternoon of that day General Grant wrote this," and Dr. Douglas drew from his pocket several slips written by the general, and read what the sick man had written, as follows:

I feel sorry at the prospect of living through the summer and fall in the condition I am in—I do not think I can but I may Except I do not gather strength I feel quite as well from day to day as I have done heretofore but I am losing strength I feel it more in my inability to move around than in any other way, or rather in a lack of desire to move "

READY TO GO

When I had read that added Dr Douglas "I turned to the general and tried to cheer him by telling him of the apparently improved condition of his throat and neck, to which in reply the general again wrote

After all that however, the disease is still there and must be fatal in the end My life is precious of course to my family and would be to me if I could recover entirely There never was one more willing to go than I I know most people have first one and then another little thing to fix up, and never get quite through This was partially my case I first wanted so many days to work on my book, so the authorship would be strictly mine It was graciously granted to me, after being apparently much lower than since, and with a capacity to do more work than I ever did in the same time My work had been done so hastily that much of it was left out and I did it all over from the crossing of the James river in 1864 to Appomattox in 1865. Since that I have added as much as fifty pages to the book I should think There is nothing more to do and therefore I am not likely to be more ready to go than at this moment "

ADJUTANT GENERAL DRUM

Adjutant General Drum arrived on the mountain this evening He was the bearer of a letter from President Cleveland to Mrs Grant tendering a lot in the soldiers' home grounds as a burial place for the dead general, if it should meet the view of the family In conversation General Drum said I have to-day transmitted to General Hancock an order from the secretary of war directing General Hancock to take entire charge of the military arrangements of General Grant's funeral from the present to the day of burial, and all military of any kind here will be under his direction, and to him applications must be made by all military organizations that may desire to take part in the obsequies "

SHERMAN'S PRESENCE REQUESTED

General Sherman now en route east from Minnesota will find awaiting him at New York a message requesting his presence here at his earliest convenience General John A Logan will also doubtless attend the remains from here to New York

NEW YORK

The Last Hours of Grant—The Action of the Municipal Authorities

NEW YORK, July 24 —The Tribune has the following of Grant's last hours As Nellie was standing by the bedside holding her father's hand and watching the quiet impassive face on the pillow she leaned forward, and with her mouth close to her father's ear said "Papa if you know your Nellie will you squeeze her hand?" The emaciated fingers contracted slightly and this was the last evidence of existing consciousness

The exact time of the general's death is not known as there was considerable variation in the watches Dr Douglas watch was exactly at 8 while other watches were a few minutes faster or slower Dr Shrady was watching the general closely When he saw a pallor strike his face and saw the last slight gasp he leaned slightly forward, and said to Colonel Grant "At last the end has come " Dr Douglas gave a deep sigh and said "It is all over " and then slowly moved away from the bed while tears trickled down his cheeks

Mrs Grant was dazed for a moment, and would not believe her husband was no more She clasped his cold hand to her bosom, and Nellie burying her face in her hands, said "Poor Mamma" Mrs Grant got up from her chair and leaning over the calm silent face, kissed the cold lips again and again until Dr Newman, who had entered the room just as the general died, took her gently by the arm and led her to a sofa. Newman's face was flushed with emotion and he said that his prayer that the general might die peacefully had been answered For such a quiet death I never saw before

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN

NEW YORK July 24.—The board of aldermen met to-day Mayor Grace sent in a communication to them, calling their attention officially to the death of General Grant and quoting his letter of yesterday to Mrs Grant and the answer from Colonel Fred Grant. Appropriate resolutions were then offered The resolutions extend sympathy to the family and offer on the part of the [illegible] sepulture for the body of General Grant in [any of] the public parks in this city which the family of deceased may select and say that City hall will be draped and placed at the disposal of family of deceased, for reception of the remains They also provide for a committee to perfect funeral arrangements and order a copy of the resolutions sent to the general's family A committee to make the necessary preparations provided for in the resolutions was appointed. A communication was read from Clerk Turner, who had been despatched to Mount McGregor to confer with the family of General Grant in relation to his sepulture in one of the parks of the city It stated that it was likely the proposition would be accepted A resolution was adopted, empowering the mayor in case the proposition was accepted to appoint a committee to collect the quota to be contributed by the people towards a national monument

The stock exchange committee to-day adopted appropriate resolutions, a copy of which was ordered sent to the general's family

THE MATTER SETTLED

Mayor Grace to-day received the following dispatch from his private secretary at Mount McGregor, in regard to the offer made by the city of a place of burial in one of the parks belonging to the city

Colonel Grant instructs me to say that upon the condition that the wish of the general that a place be reserved beside him for Mrs. Grant be and the family definitely, finally, accept. You are therefore at liberty to take action upon this matter which is final The family prefer Central park

The mayor to-day appointed a committee of 100 citizens to raise New York City's share of the expense of a national monument to General Grant Among the members of this committee are Samuel J Tilden Chester A Arthur Alonzo B Cornell, William M Evarts Oswald Ottendorfer George Jones Thomas [illegible] James Edward Cooper Smith Ely Jr W H Wickham Roscoe Conkling Ralph Davis Cornelius N Bliss Eugene Kelly George Bliss Whitelaw Reid John Jacob Astor Parke Godwin Henry B Hyde General George B McClellan Dr Fordyce Barker Cornelius Vanderbilt Jesse Seligman Joseph W Drexel David M Stone David Dows Hamilton Fish Pierre Lorillard Ogden Goelet and Joseph Pulitzer

THE TRUST FUND

The Tribune will publish to-morrow a statement of the present status of the trust fund raised by citizens of New York for General Grant several years ago After telling how, at the suggestion of the late Governor Morgan $188,000 of the fund was invested in the Wabash railroad first mortgage [illegible] per cent bonds which were then considered as good as governments Governor Morgan guaranteeing them and undertaking to make both principal and interest good out of his own private fortune in case the interest should be defaulted for six months, The Tribune says What six months ago seemed an almost impossible contingency will probably become a fact within a few days On August 1 interest on the bonds in question will be six months in arrears and it is probable that Governor Morgan's executors will in accordance with his guaranty pay over to the trustees of the fund the principal and interest Only one question remains to be determined It has been suggested that if the executors of the Morgan estate lend the railroad the money wherewith to pay the interest on the bonds held in trust for General Grant and his family there would technically be no default, and therefore the Morgan estate would not be liable for the principal Whatever course Governor Morgan if alive, would have pursued under the circumstances, his executors are bound in law to be governed by the exact legal interpretation of his written guaranty The whole question of the executors' liability at the present juncture has been referred to a lawyer who will give his opinion within a few days Meantime there is reason to believe that on August 1 the guaranty will be carried out and the $188,000 with arrears of interest will be paid to the treasurer of the fund

THE LOYAL LEGION

The board of officers of the grand commandery of the military order of the Loyal Legion at their headquarters at Philadelphia have notified the New York commandery that upon action of the latter with respect to the funeral of its late commander General Grant being communicated to them they will convene the different commanderies throughout the union and issue proper orders for participation in the obsequies and mourning.

The following telegram was received by the New York [illegible] this afternoon

General [illegible] A Carleton California commandery mourns the bereavement which has deprived New York of its commander and the Loyal Legion of its [illegible] beloved companion

[illegible] Elliott Commander

THE CANOPY

The [illegible] used above General Grant's coffin was sent to Saratoga to-day It was last used at the funeral of Bishop Simpson at Philadelphia It consists of four heavily carved mahogany posts with black broadcloth and damask silk curtains, topped with silk and chenille tassels

ARRIVAL OF GRANT'S SISTER

Mrs Cramer sister of General Grant accompanied by her husband lately United States minister to Switzerland arrived to-day on the steamer Wieland from Hamburg

AT WASHINGTON.

Public Buildings Draped in Mourning—The Senate to be Represented

WASHINGTON July 24 —The draping of the public buildings in honor of General Grant is about completed The capitol building was draped under direction of Colonel Canaday sergeant at arms of the senate, and General Clark, clerk of the house. There is no authority for making an expenditure for this purpose but it is expected that congress will make the necessary appropriation. For the present the draping consists of a broad band of black around the pillars, with streamers around the portico and balconies on all sides of the building Twelve large columns at the front of the White house are covered with mourning their entire length, with festoons at the base Festoons also extend from column to column at the top A broad band of black extends the entire length of the front of the house, just beneath the windows on the first floor and also around the outside of the large portico All the windows in the front of the house are surrounded with mourning emblems The treasury building is the simplest and most tastefully draped of all the departments.

THE SENATE

Sergeant at Arms Canaday of the senate to-day received the following dispatch from St Clair springs Michigan

It is proper that the senate of the United States shall participate with the other departments of the government and with the people, in doing honor to the memory of General Grant I therefore designate the following senators to represent that body in connection with the funeral ceremonies Justin Morrill, John Sherman, John A Logan J D Cameron Wade Hampton A M Ransom, Joseph E Brown, J G Harris and John F Miller of California You will notify them immediately and you are requested to officially accompany them THOS A HENDRICKS Vice President

Of the senators named by the vice president, Miller is in Alaska, Cameron in Montana, and Harris and Brown out of reach of telegraph. The remaining senators were notified by telegraph to-night, and the vice president was informed of the absence of the others and asked to name substitutes This will probably be done to-morrow Although the vice president only named nine senators it is probable that a full delegation of twelve will be present at the funeral

WASHINGTON DISAPPOINTED

Regret is almost universal here that Central park New York has been selected as the last resting place for the remains of General Grant The Post says editorially "There is no national character to Central park and no reason why a man of national renown should be buried there The Republican is equally emphatic in its expression of the opinion that Grant should be buried here, and says there is some talk of sending a formal protest to Colonel Grant on the subject

General Burdette commander in chief of the G A R said to-night that he was very sorry for the election but that 100 000 G A R men would attend the funeral wherever it takes place He will issue a general order to-morrow

WITH NATIONAL HONORS

President Cleveland was to-night advised by a telegram from Adjutant General Drum now at Mt McGregor that he had delivered the president's letter to Mrs Grant and that she and the children expressed a desire to have General Grant buried with national honors Their wishes will be respected and the ceremonies will take place as already indicated in the press dispatches President Cleveland and members of his cabinet will attend the funeral in New York on Saturday the 8th of August

BAYARD ISSUES A CIRCULAR

WASHINGTON July 24 —Secretary Bayard has addressed a circular to all the diplomatic and consular offices of the United States inviting attention to the president's proclamation announcing the death of General Grant Bayard directs that flags of the offices be displayed at half mast on the reception of the circular and symbols of mourning be assumed for thirty days

GENERAL GRANT'S BOOK

Mrs Grant to Realize a Nice Sum from its Publication

NEW YORK July 24 —The Sun says Mrs Grant's share of the proceeds of General Grant's book, Personal Memoirs of U S Grant will be between $[illegible]0 000 and $[illegible]0 000 The publisher C L Webster says that [illegible] 000 sets of books are already made by agents who are now gathering subscriptions and the number will soon be increased to [illegible]0 000 The work will be issued in two volumes to be published separately about the first days of December and March next respectively They will be sold exclusively by subscription Webster sails for Europe August 10th to arrange for publication of the book in England France Germany, Italy and Austria Norwegian and Portuguese publishers have also made overtures to publish the book Mrs Grant will have a large percentage on the sale of the book in foreign countries General Grant's sons have no moneyed interest in the book The publishers have now complete manuscripts of both volumes They have the first volume in type and find that it contains [illegible] chapters instead of twenty five and fifteen maps instead of nine The second volume will contain about 600 pages instead of 500 Instead of forty chapters there are twenty five and from thirty to forty maps instead of six as represented at first

It is said several persons have prepared books about General Grant with titles which are calculated to lead the public to suppose they are his personal memoirs General Grant's publishers wrote to him on this subject and General Grant replied

MT MCGREGOR N Y July 18

Charles L Webster & Co Dear Sirs Your letter with reference to imitations of the title page of my personal memoirs is received It seems in order to me that any one could be unprincipled enough to obtain subscriptions to a book of the character you name by leading the public to believe it is one I have written but if such is the case I think the wisest course is simply to let the public know that this wrong is being done

Yours truly U S GRANT

Press Comment on General Grant's Death Americans Take Appropriate Steps

LONDON July 24 The Post says The American public has lost one of its illustrious citizens General Grant will be remembered as an able soldier who prevented a final severance of the great republic It is thus that he will be known to posterity Though not a Napoleon or a Wellington he handled large armies and led them to victory

The Standard says Although the death of General Grant was a long expected event it is not the less deplored We can only share with his mourning countrymen in the sense of a loss of one whose career was so notable so honorable to himself and so useful to his native land if this were possible He even rose in the popular idea when the nation saw the way he faced poverty and ruin Simple and modest he was never cast down by reverses nor elated by prosperity Never a great strategist he knew only one course and was to fight. To-day, from Cape Cod to the Alaskan isles the land will once more resound with the fading memories of the war"

The Telegraph devotes two columns to a review of General Grant's military career Editorially it says Yesterday the greatest and most successful soldier that the United States had produced breathed his last In no portion of the United States have the financial disasters marking the close of General Grant's career been regarded with more sympathy and regret than England Beyond all others he was the best fitted to cope with the tremendous crisis which made him and when the grave closes over all that is mortal of Ulysses Simpson Grant it will be felt that he leaves behind him no [illegible] sterner or more heroic mould "

TO OBSERVE GRANT'S FUNERAL

LONDON July 24 —A number of prominent Americans will assemble to-morrow at the residence of Minister Phelps to consult upon proper measures to be taken in view of the death of General Grant and to adopt resolutions of sympathy with the family of the dead soldier The legation will be closed on the day of the funeral. Minister Phelps and Mr White, second secretary of the legation had accepted invitations to the ball to be given to-night by the Prince of Wales but owing to the death of General Grant have written letters of regret stating that they cannot attend

A movement has been initiated for the construction of a fine school house in this town which will, no doubt, materialize

The Presbyterians have moved their new little church building to a more central location, and are having a large addition built thereto. Fox and Needham are the contractors.

Work on the new brick building on Yakima avenue has been stopped until a new kiln is burnt. New buildings are in constant course of construction, and hence the lumber business is healthy.

The work of bringing buildings from the old town is still progressing in charge of contractors [illegible] and Hatch, though there are but few buildings left to be moved. The disposition of the court house and school house will be left to the decision of the people of the county and district

The high kicking at the action of the railroad company in reducing our mail to tri weekly has resulted in no change, present or prospective, for the better We get two DAILY OREGONIANS at a time and on Tuesdays three, including Sundays. But it will not always be thus We can't stand retrogression

There is a pleasant resort at Soda Springs, some twenty miles away up in the foothills, which all who have been there agree in saying is a pleasant place to visit. It is an agreeable ride through the Ahtanum valley All the ditches are kept running with pure water, the newly set trees are growing finely, but places of disease producing exhalations are rapidly increasing through human negligence Deposits of offal and want of drainage, which source of danger should be promptly removed.

The resumption of work on the Natchess bridge has given a new impetus to the hope of our good people, which has been slightly depressed since the general suspension of railroad construction the 1st of last June J M McKinnon of Albina, has the superintendence of the building for Nelson Bennett and James Sequin has the contract for the superintendence of not only this but all the other bridges over the Cascades. Each man has a complement of workmen employed and expects to have the job completed by the 1st proximo, when track laying will be resumed along the line towards Ellensburg. A construction train will soon again be put to work Material is being brought into the yard, and a new gang is employed in loading and unloading cars.

AN ENGLISH BOY SWINDLED

SAN FRANCISCO July 24 —A special from Los Angeles to the Examiner says Another case of swindling by a London firm was made public here to-day W H Bannister a young Englishman, 17 years old son of a well to-do jobber of Winchmore, a suburb of London England, says his father noticed an advertisement in a London paper to the effect that a practical farmer with the best London references leaving with his family for California to engage in fruit farming, would take a few pupils on reasonable terms His father answered the advertisement, and contracted with W G Finsbury and W L Levy for his son to be taken as a pupil in fruit farming in California. Twenty pounds sterling money was paid over and receipted for in the boy's presence, he thereby becoming their pupil for six months The contract specified that young Bannister be given a good home, an easy time and $5 per month They also gave him letters to S W Ready and J C Ayers of this city Young Bannister reached here June 2d, and not finding Ayers he sought out Ready who gave him a choice of two positions one light work at $5 per month the other to be heavy work and no pay for three months, The boy took the first and was taken to the place of G F Dietz in Vernon district three miles south of the city He soon found out that no contract existed between Dietz and Ready, in reference to his working for the former at $5 per month When Mr Dietz told the boy this he realized that some crookedness existed and that his father was out £20. He then came to town, to look for work Ready has since gone to Dietz to furnish him another pupil but Dietz refused to have anything more to do with him. The London advertisement is a fraud Mr Ready on being interviewed, corroborated Bannister's statements in all essential particulars but stated that he had so much trouble with English boys that he resigned June 25th

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC TEA SCHEME.

SAN FRANCISCO July 24 —The Chronicle to-day says editorially, on the new project of the Northern Pacific, to establish a through tea route from China and Japan via Tacoma to the eastern coast The new management of the Northern Pacific is evidently disposed to force the Pacific Mail and the Central Pacific to give it a share of the business of tea transportation In reply to this challenge the Pacific Mail and the Oriental and Occidental steamers have just issued a circular, offering lower rates to large shippers, but it is obvious that the war will be of brief duration and will end in the organization of a new pool in which the tea traffic will be divided between the Northern Pacific, the Central Pacific the Southern Pacific and the Atlantic and Pacific "

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1885.

WHERE TO LOOK FOR IMMIGRANTS.

It is said that the New Orleans exposition is to be reopened, and we hear that an effort is to be made to have the products of Oregon again put on exhibition there. This may be well enough when looked at from one point of view, since it can do no kind of harm to Oregon, beyond the loss of money and effort involved in it, but we cannot regard it as a judicious effort, because there does not appear to be the slightest probability that it will do Oregon the slightest good, and because effort can be made in other directions, with actual results.

Strip the New Orleans exposition scheme of the misleading glamour thrown about it by the red fire of a subsidized press, of the "booming" efforts of paid or interested letter writers, and get down to the plain basis of fact, and it becomes only too apparent that if Oregon, through a commissioner or any associated effort, proposes to go to this new show with the idea of reaping benefits in the shape of emigration from the gulf states, she will very foolishly waste time, effort and money Every fact that can be used at all, in relation to Oregon's connection with the late "six months exposition," points just that one way Our people spent about $1000 for literature and sample products appropriated $5000 for commissioners of one degree and another skirmished the state for tall oats, big pears, two-season turnips, mammoth cabbages, etc. ran their cheek for commissioners' passes and free transportation for specimen cars, and expended an infinite amount of bone and sinew in fret and worry over the affair. And the results of all this expenditure of money, all this application of title by the executive of the state, all this collection of splendid grain and other products what of these? There is not, so far as we can discern after persistent inquiry, an iota of evidence that all this effort found a single emigrant and caused him to seek a home in this state It is nine months since Oregon spread her banners, her literature and her commissioners within the halls of the New Orleans exposition and we have yet to hear of the receipt of a single letter from one who saw her there, and became so impressed as to desire the closer acquaintance of an emigrant. It has been heralded that Oregon carried off several prizes. They have not made their appearance here as yet, nor do they seem likely to Of long winded, flattering taffy letters we have had a surfeit. These appear to constitute the chief results of the exposition, so far as heard from These letters are directed to the setting forth of the excellence of Oregon's exhibit, the prospective good results and the urgent need of going again. They are supplemented by lithographic documents appealing for booms and boomlets, in behalf of the coming show, which, under a new and high-sounding name, is to be started in November

Now there is no reason for believing that this "exposition" will be any more of a success than the other, and the failure of that, with reference to the objects for which it was ostensibly organized, is plain enough There is every reason for the belief that on or about the 15th of this month a company of citizens of New Orleans purchased at auction the right title and franchise held by the former stockholders, and that they will operate this new show as a "hippodrome" for gate, hotel and restaurant money

It is possible, even under such circumstances, that a few months of Oregon at New Orleans, might induce some few people who had gone to the gulf states from the north, to emigrate, but it is the sheerest folly to suppose that natives of the lower southern states can be persuaded to come here Nor can we see that it would be desirable to induce that class of people to come to Oregon This state wants a plucky energetic, wide-awake set of new comers, who will purchase lands and become small farmers That class of people can not be found as natives of the gulf states, or that part of the south, affected and influenced by the New Orleans exposition

The western states of Iowa, Dakota, Illinois Indiana, Michigan Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin and the more northerly of the southern states as Missouri Kentucky and Tennessee furnish the kind of immigration we need, to add to the moral social and financial strength of the state and it is among these people that our money, time and speech ought to be expended Three months of going among the farming population of these states with specimen products to show them, with concise descriptive matter to give them, and a representative agent who is thoroughly and practically acquainted with Oregon to talk to them will yield greater and far better results than so many years at a New Orleans exposition The people of the gulf states are only interested in us so far as we can aid them financially They have nothing in common with us never have had never will have They have no desire to come to this country if they had, the immediate or ultimate benefit would be questionable.

Just now, the attention of tens of thousands of western state people is drawn to Oregon and only a very little judicious missionary effort will be required to make them full converts in possession They are a class of people who will come with means for the purchase of farms They will come with habits of industry and thrift It is to be hoped that if there is to be any effort individual or organized in behalf of immigration, either supplemental to or independent of that of the state board, it will be among the people of those states It will be a [illegible] waste of time and money to repeat Oregon's experiment at New Orleans

The Albany Democrat devotes two lines to the announcement of Grant's death, but lacks space for more than a statement of when and where he was born It found space in the same issue however, for two columns of poor democratic editorial matter However, the democratic party needs eulogy and Grant doesn't

The New York World, after making sundry exposures of the irregularities of a contemporary newspaper, says The World will undertake to see that there is no journalistic fraud or hypocrisy in this part of the country Nobody, it appears is too big for attempted frauds in journalism

The new high school building will be completed by the 1st of September Its cost, with that of the site, will be $153,000 It is said that about $10,000 has been spent on "dub-dub" ornamentation. This was absolutely necessary to put the building in harmony with the school system.

NEWS AND NEWSPAPER CREDITS

The Corvallis Gazette misunderstands THE OREGONIAN does not complain that the News "publishes items from other papers without giving proper credit," but that it publishes with forged dates and falsely, as telegraphic news of the day, matter which does not come to it by telegraph at all, but which is clipped from eastern papers, from five days to a week old It is not the theft but the imposture which THE OREGONIAN exposes and condemns Among newspapers it is not considered discreditable to take strictly news matter from wherever it may be found, so long as there is no fraud in its presentation For example, we have not complained that the News regularly copies the dispatches of the Evening Telegram, nor shall we do so as long as they are reprinted correctly

As to THE OREGONIAN'S copying news items without credit from the country press, the Gazette is in error Such matter is always given in a solid type column by itself, and commonly (always, indeed, when the item is important) the paper copied is given full credit. There is never an effort to make such news fresher than it really is, and "originality" is the last merit we should ever claim for it. But if THE OREGONIAN never credited an item to the country press, and if it used twenty for where it uses one, we should not feel under any particular obligation The items we copy are small matters, whose collection costs little or nothing. On the other hand, the country papers take regularly from THE OREGONIAN all their eastern and general news without a word of credit. Where did the Gazette of this week get its dispatches about the Cheyenne Indian troubles the burning of the steamer Wildwood at Olympia, the Roach failure and other matters too numerous to mention? Where did it get the news upon which most of its excellent editorial matter was based? Where does it regularly each week get matter of this kind to the extent of three or five columns? Where do all the country papers in the state get their general news? Why, from the telegraphic contents of THE OREGONIAN! And do they ever give a word of credit? Well, hardly ever. The matter in the Gazette of this week, taken directly or indirectly, from THE OREGONIAN cost fifty dollars at the lowest estimate. Let it be understood that we say this in good nature, that we make no complaint at the use which the country press makes of our columns. We mention it only to show that THE OREGONIAN returns full value many times multiplied for the small news items which it takes from the country papers, with or without credit. The country press draws, habitually and without credit, not only from our telegraphic columns, but largely, as well, from our local and market reports, and from the reports of the special correspondents who we are compelled to maintain at all important points in Oregon and Washington, because the country papers do not give even the news of their own localities How would THE OREGONIAN fare for Salem news if it depended upon that poor rag, the Statesman? How would it fare for news of southern Oregon if it waited on the reports of the miscalled Plaindealer? THE DAILY OREGONIAN is sent in exchange to nearly every country weekly in the northwest, not because those papers are, as a rule, of absolute use, but chiefly out of courtesy and good will We speak plainly about this matter, but without acrimony or ill-will to any Since the talk has become general, it is just as well that we all understand one another

A SOURCE OF TROUBLE

It appears that the distrust on the part of certain chiefs which promises to defeat the desired settlement with the Umatilla Indians is a product of the influence of certain white men who, through marriage with squaws or by other disreputable connection with the Indians have found lodgment on the reservation These miserable wretches would be turned out under the proposed settlement, and all their interest is exerted to defeat it Their method is to stir up opposition among the Indians, whose ignorance, credulity and suspicious nature render them easy dupes The chiefs who obstruct the plan of settlement in severalty speak not their own minds nor those of their people, but the false fears suggested by "squaw men" in their own interest. It is not surprising that the people of Umatilla county who hope for so much through the opening of the reservation are deeply indignant over the success of this low and contemptible influence

This is but one of many instances showing the vicious effect of the association of white men with Indians White men who descend to this association are always of a low sort, and their influence, even when it does not come in conflict with the plans of the government, is in opposition to decency, morality and civilization Why such men have been permitted to live on the reservations is unaccountable It is time now, certainly, to make a rule absolutely barring them from entering reservation limits. The fact that they have Indian wives ought not to give them a single privilege, for, by connecting them with the tribe, it only increases their opportunity for mischief This matter should be presented immediately to the secretary of the interior with a full statement of the facts, and we have not a doubt that he will make it a feature of the reform which it is said he proposes to apply to Indian management.

Another abuse of the same general nature is that of allowing the Indians to farm out their ranges to white men The presence of white herders on the reservations, quarrels over the ownership of stock and other matters incidental to this custom, are in many instances the occasion of trouble Some of our Indian wars, indeed, have grown directly out of this custom The cattlemen, too, finding profit in range-renting become the opponents of progress from the same reasons of self interest which move the squaw men to oppose settlement in severalty

The proposed Indian reform should begin with the banishment of white men in any other than an official capacity from the reservations The government can never deal rightly with the Indians so long as they are under the influence of scalawags and others whose interests lie in the continuance of their present condition

A SAD CASE

Having heard through THE OREGONIAN and Evening Telegram of the death of General Grant in time to print the announcement of it the day after the event occurred, the bogus paper is troubling itself about the publication of the event by THE OREGONIAN on the morning of its occurrence and within one hour after the general breathed his last, That's what THE OREGONIAN "is here for" —to give the news It doesn't have to wait for the mails, and then give old matter as news, under raised dates It has provided itself with the facilities that a public journal should have and must have if it would be a newspaper and it uses them The bogus journal having no facilities either for obtainment of news, or publication of it with the rapidity that emergencies require, isn't a newspaper and can't be a newspaper Its condition would be even more pitiable than it is if it did not have the Evening Telegram to draw from, of which it is largely a reprint—as largely, that is to say, as it has facilities for reprinting it. Yesterday it was able to do rather better than usual The Telegram had a very interesting account, of about two thousand words of the particulars and incidents of General Grant's death This made two columns or more in the bogus journal's poster type—more matter than it has itself received by telegraph in two weeks Another column in the same type was filled with stuff clipped and printed under raised dates as usual And this comprised the contents of that paper yesterday Of such journalism as this THE OREGONIAN of course is terribly "jealous" The competition is something immense Seriously, since somebody will undoubtedly keep trying to print another morning paper here, THE OREGONIAN hopes the brethren of the News will keep at it. Were they to stop, somebody presently might start a newspaper.

The Fort Townsend Argus declares that Collector Beecher is anxious to prevent the illegal entrance of Chinese into Washington territory from British Columbia, but that it is impossible to do this without the aid of a revenue cutter The run across from Vancouver's island is short and easy and the places of landing are so numerous and isolated that the collector with the means now at his disposal is powerless

A Colorado editor who is visiting us is unable to see why in traveling south, we go up to Salem, down to Roseburg and out to Ashland Our ups and downs do seem somewhat mixed

It is said that it will take six months to bring the surplus grain of eastern Oregon and Washington to Portland, at the rate of twelve trains daily

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

GRIST FOR THE DIVORCE MILL —Although Judge Stearns and his equity court have taken a vacation, there seems to be no end to the number of people who are anxiously seeking divorces For the past week there has been a complaint of this kind filed with the county clerk nearly every day Yesterday it was the suit of William Young vs. Florence L. Young The parties were married in this city in 1866, and lived together till about the first of last month. They have three children, John Young, aged 17 years, Edith J Young, 15 years, and W R. Young, aged 14 years, all of whom are now living with their father in this city The complaint charges the wife with infidelity and complains of adultery with a specified man, whose last name is Brown, and of her desertion of her husband and children on the 29th of May, 1885, stating she went to San Francisco, where she now is. The plaintiff after stating what real estate he is the owner of, prays for the dissolution of the marriage contract, the possession of the children and for a decree divesting the defendant of right or title to his real property The above is a sequel to two items, not heretofore fully explained, which were published at intervals of about six months in the city press The first was the mysterious shooting near the corner of Morrison street in the middle of the night and the capture by a policeman of the man named Brown, who was fleeing from the spot with all possible haste and lacking some of his outer garments The second item was the sound thrashing of the man Brown by Mr Young, who but then discovered his identity Brown has since gone to San Francisco.

GAME BIRDS FOR THE POLICE.—In the German language "Vogel" means a bird Isaac Vogel, the fakir, who came here from California lately is a pretty bird, and he associates with Al James and Johnny Foster in accordance with the old saying that birds of a feather flock together THE OREGONIAN blocked Vogel's little game here, so Foster and James took him up the valley. They managed to earn $80 each before they were shut off and coming home Foster and James got Vogel into a game of poker and plucked this pretty bird of his last cent. They remarked that he was thrown down about as easy as any sucker they ever tackled Vogel accumulated some coin in California, which he banked with his better half, and he has telegraphed to her twice for money to take him home, and his enterprising pals have beaten him out of it both times. Foster and James would not rob a man if they could get Vogel to do it, for they can get the money more easily by beating him out of it These fellows and a lot more of the same stripe can be seen morning and evening fishing for suckers on First street, between Oak and Pine, and around by the Mint saloon on Front street The police may think they can't put a stop to these fellows working, but the public remember how easily the gambling saloons were closed a few months since, and how long they were kept closed, but they do not understand just how they came to be opened again

HARVEST IN WASHINGTON COUNTY —The harvest is going forward in this county with a rush, says the Hillsboro Independent. People are determined to save their crops this year if the weather will give them a fair show Grain looks well, and will at least make an average yield Much fall grain and early oats have a great deal of straw There is considerable complaint of smut, and some cases of rust is reported, but the rust is mostly confined to the leaf, so that the damage from it can not be material. It has been reported that Hon J W Sappington, of Gaston, has a field of wheat of fifty acres that is ruined by rust, but it wants confirmation Young James Imbrie it is said, has the best field of oats in the county The finest field of oats we have seen in this county is a field of 100 acres near Columbia academy, owned by Jackson Hoover It will go sixty bushels to the acre—of course there are small fields of beaverdam oats that will beat it, for oats on beaverdam sometimes yield 100 bushels to the acre Some fields of late sown spring grain will be good for nothing but hay Farmers are very hopeful with the fact of a large acreage and a good yield, and the probability of a good price With so much improved machinery, there is not much demand for harvest hands The usual prices paid for laborers in the harvest field are $1 or $1 25 and board though some well known hands get $1 50

HOW BEES THRIVE IN OREGON —A very fine sample of honey in the comb has been left at this office by G Murdard, who has an apiary containing [illegible] Mr Murdard is an enthusiast in the business of bee culture and has imported queen bees from the uttermost ends of the earth His experience clearly demonstrates that apiculture can be made a success here, if any such demonstration had been needed. But it is well known that bees can get along very well, and run a business on their own hook, in this genial climate and land of flowers It is no uncommon thing to get a wash tub full of honey out of a single tree here, and "the woods are full of 'em." Readers of THE OREGONIAN will remember the account of Mr Brasel, who has an apiary at the north end of town, taking a swarm of bees and a big lot of honey out of the cornice of a brick building on Morrison street, near Third, last summer From the scraps of comb and the legs and wings of the bees left in the cornice by Mr Brasel has arisen a new swarm, which has been busy at work all summer, and they have stowed away so much honey in that cornice this summer that the building is becoming bow-legged, as it were. Mr Brasel will have to make another raid on this cornice soon, and he will be sure to call on an OREGONIAN reporter to help him carry off the honey.

BAD BLOOD IN LINN COUNTY —Several weeks ago the Albany Democrat gave an account of a very mixed shooting scrape in Canada, withholding at the time the names of the parties Last Tuesday the matter culminated in the arrest of Aleck and Dave Martin on complaint of John W Inman, charged with attempting the life of the latter The Martin brothers were brought to Albany and examined before George Humphrey Esq, in the afternoon of Tuesday The gist of Inman's testimony corroborated by other testimony, was that one morning in June about 5 o'clock some one yelled "Hello" in front of his door Opening it he was met by the Martin brothers, who began shooting with revolvers at him Grabbing a shot gun he rushed to another door and returned the fire, discharging his gun twice The Martin boys ran off so that the shooting was discontinued The defendants claim that Inman did the first shooting On examination they were held to await the action of the grand jury their bonds being placed at $100, which was furnished There is a woman in the case, which is altogether an unsavory one and contains many little points of a characteristic nature, showing the "don't care" spirit of all concerned

GOOD PERFORMANCE —A crowd of several hundred persons collected on Third street near Alder at 7 o'clock last evening to see a man walk a wire suspended across the street At the time announced he appeared, and after doing a lot of fooling to show how boys learn to walk on clothes lines, he walked across the street and back, and performed several gymnastic feats The great question which agitated that part of the public mind present was, "What is he doing it for" and "What is he advertising?" and "what is there in it for him" But when he took a stand at one end of his rope and stated that he was advertising nothing, and then put on his shoes and announced that he was coming down to take up a collection the public mind seemed to be satisfied, and the sidewalks were hardly wide enough to contain the crowd which hurried away As one of the spectators remarked "It is always safe to bet that no fellow does that sort of thing just for the fun there is in it

BURGLARY.—The residence of C H Prescott, manager of the O R & N Co, on I street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, was entered by a burglar at an early hour yesterday morning A pair of opera glasses, a match box and a few articles of bric-a-brac were the only things missed The burglar effected an entrance by cutting two holes in the kitchen door which enabled him to unlock and unbolt it As he appears to have explored the house and only got away with a few trifles when many articles of value were lying around he seems to belong to the snide class of burglars who have been operating in this city of late, and whose apparent lack of all knowledge of the first principles of their business leads one to the conclusion that they are escapes from an asylum for the idiotic and imbecile

AN EVENING ON THE RIVER —Boating parties are numerous on the river during the moonlight nights A party started out last evening in the sailboat Fleetwing, towed by the tug Albany The sails of the boat were removed and a line of Chinese lanterns strung along the gaff, thence down to and along the boom. The party took a supply of firewo ks and eatables, going down the river with lanterns swinging with the motion of the boat. Lantern parties have been quite frequent, but this way of using a crack yacht, is original with the party resorted to.

HOP-PICKING —Contractors for Chinese labor are receiving letters of inquiry concerning men for hop-picking They want to know how much a box the Chinamen will pick hops for this year Wing Sing writes back, with the sagacity of a genuine Yankee, to know how big the boxes are, as there is liable to be some misunderstanding on this point. The hop crop is rather light in some sections this year, and as the price is rather light, too, the item of picking is quite an important one to hop-growers Chinamen do not care to pick for less than forty cents a box, as in a poor yard they cannot pick more than a box and a half day, and where the crop is good, about two boxes per day By reference to the letter of a correspondent from Linn county, in another column, it will be seen that the hop-growers of that section propose to pay only twenty-five cents a box this year Wherefore, unless white men will work for less than Chinamen, the hops are likely to go unpicked

IT WOULDN'T WORK —The crowd of tramps and bummers which infest the city at present are striving in every way to make an easy penny, which suits them better than an honest one Yesterday one of these fellows went into a grocery and bought a bar of soap for 15 cents. He laid down a dollar and received 85 cents change As soon as the clerk had turned around the tramp called him and said, "That was a dollar I gave you, and you only gave me 85 cents change." The clerk was certain that he had given the right change and refused to rectify the alleged error, whereupon the tramp went out and joined three companions on the sidewalk, shaking his head, as much as to say "It would not work," and the party moved sorrowfully away, disappointed of the expected half gallon of beer.

FINE BELLS ARRIVED —There arrived here yesterday overland, three fine bells for the church of the Immaculate Conception. They are from McShane's foundry, Baltimore The largest weighs something over 3000 pounds, the next in size about 2000 and the smallest about 1000 pounds. They are tuned in harmony and will chime very pleasantly They are all the bells needed at present, but whenever it is desired to have a full chime for the church these will form a part. The bells are accompanied by all the necessary machinery for ringing, tolling, etc. The church is now completed A grand concert will be given therein on the 6th of August, and the building will be dedicated with the usual ceremonies on the 15th

RECKLESS DRIVING.—A garden "sass" peddler yesterday morning came near running over Hon. D. P Thompson and J. P. O. Lownsdale at the intersection of Washington and Third streets. They, however, managed to elude him, but he succeeded in knocking down and running over a boy, fortunately without killing him, although he was badly bruised A few arrests for this sort of thing might have a good effect on reckless drivers who seem to think that pedestrians have no rights which a driver is bound to respect. These arrests would also have the effect of keeping the arrest book from being the howling waste of white paper which it is at present.

OVER THE MOSCOW EXTENSION —H F Rowe, superintendent of the railway division of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co , returned yesterday from a trip over the line of the extension from Colfax to Moscow. He made a survey of the route from the hurricane deck of a cayuse and hopes to take his next view from a railroad car, which is a mode of locomotion which suits him much better It might be remarked that it will also suit the cayuses better. A number of laborers were sent up yesterday to work on the road, which it is expected will be completed by October 1

CHAMPION LADY SKATER.—Miss Fan El Fitz, the champion lady roller skater of this country, is now in Portland, and giving exhibitions at the Vineyard skating rink, on Fourth street near B. There was a large attendance at the rink last evening to witness Miss Fitz' performance and it was something really extraordinary and remarkable. She is but 18 years of age, and has acquired her astounding skill upon the skates in one year. It will be worth one's while to witness her exhibitions Her last in this city will be to-night.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A little son of C A Malarkey, while viewing the tight rope performance on Third street last evening, was knocked down and had a very narrow escape from being run over and killed by a buggy loaded with girls. The horse was stopped in the nick of time by a gentleman Had the vehicle passed over the child he would certainly have been killed, as there was 800 pounds of girl in it—good weight

SPORTS AT THE VINEYARD —At the Vineyard to-morrow there will be a running race mile and repeat, an exhibition trotting race, a running race, a trotting race best two in three, a game of baseball between the Portland Stars and Willamettes, some foot racing and, last but not least, the shooting contest between W. L. Curry of this city and J. F McNaught of Seattle for the diamond badge now held by Mr Curry

FOOT RACING IN SOUTHERN OREGON.—A correspondent writes that a running match for $100 a side will take place on Saturday next at Roseburg between the well-known champion Ryan and one McKinney a cow boy from the rural districts. Considerable excitement has already been aroused and the race will certainly be a very interesting one

GRANT MEMORIAL SERVICES —Memorial services on the death of General Grant will be held at the Hall Street M E church to-morrow evening A discourse will be delivered on the life, work and character of General Grant. Music as follows will be rendered "Sleep, sacred dust of noble dead," "He rests in peace" "Our last grand camping ground

SAWMILL BURNED —At 1 o'clock yesterday morning Everson & Briggs' sawmill on the Barnes road, five miles from Portland, was destroyed by fire There was no lumber in the mill at the time The loss was $3500 Cause, burning saw dust and slabwood too close to the engine room It is reported that the mill will be rebuilt.

THE JAUNTING JOURNALISTS.—The Colorado editorial excursion returned from up the valley last night, having gone no further than Salem In the evening they went on the moonlight excursion to Vancouver, having a most enjoyable time After spending most of to-day in the city they will leave for home at P M

A CONVENIENT HOUR.—Passengers for Ilwaco will find it convenient to take the R R Thompson which leaves Ash street at 10 A M to-day and which makes immediate connection with the General Miles at Astoria, thus avoiding the early hour of departure of other boats

GALLICK, THE ABSCONDER

The Man who is Wanted in Portland by the Sheriff Fleeces a Large Number of People in Victoria, B C

I M Gallick, the absconding boot and shoe dealer of this city, who left numerous creditors here about two years ago and fled to Victoria, has not been idle since that time On the contrary, he carried on the old business at a new stand, and on Wednesday last, as THE OREGONIAN'S dispatches informed its readers he absconded from Victoria, leaving a large number of mourning creditors Concerning Gallick and his doings, the Victoria Colonist has the following "About twelve months ago, one bright morning in July a stranger arrived in Victoria from over the Sound, and from events that followed him it appears that he 'stood not on the order of his coming, but came at once," a proceeding not unusual with one of his ilk, and made necessary by a very warm reception tendered to him by the authorities of Portland The stranger was a very plausible genius, and soon ingratiated himself into the good graces of several members of the community. He had not been here more than a week before a Portland detective appeared on the scene, and the chief of police and merchants were warned to look out for the man

"The detective gave a detailed account of the man's exploits in Portland, asserting that he came there a stranger, and representing himself a capitalist opened an extensive boot and shoe business which thrived for a time The proprietor evidently believed in a large stock, especially on the ninety days' plan he also had an eye to keeping it insured to its full value One night the establishment was burned out in some unaccountable manner, and suspicion was aroused by the anxiety the proprietor displayed about a hasty payment of the insurance The suspicion grew to open assertions that the place was burned for the insurance. An investigation followed, and it was discovered that a large part of the stock had been secretly shipped away from Portland, and these facts, together with many crooked transactions made flight the only safe refuge for the swindling shoe dealer

"So he came to Victoria, and after a few weeks' sojourn here, during which time his wife joined him, he rented the store at the corner of Yates and Government streets, and swung his sign to the breeze as the 'Queen's Shoe Store, F. M Gallick, proprietor.' From this it was evident that the Portland shoe stock had reached Victoria. The man's proclivities for arson made the insurance agents very careful about taking risks, and the neighbors were rather shaky about the safety of their business places with his 'fire bug' in their midst.

His plans were on a different lay, however, and getting a little "short" he took in Mr. Morris as a partner, but the co-operation did not last long, as Mr. Morris discovered that his slippery partner was trying to beat him out of his money, so he withdrew Since that time Gallick has carried on the business, contracting many debts and failing to pay his employes. Last week he negotiated a bargain for the business with a Mr Pedgrift which was closed on Monday very quietly The same evening Gallick disappeared and has not been seen since

"Yesterday a host of creditors entertained the new proprietor throughout the day among them several angry employes who claimed that they were not paid their wages. On enquiry it is understood that Mr Samuel Clay holds a mortgage on the establishment and there is likely to be a lively time over the effects among the creditors and the new proprietor Gallick's wife left with her child on the Olympian yesterday morning, and will no doubt join her liege lord in other parts where some new scheme may be concocted "

THE EAST SIDE

FELL THROUGH A FERRY SLIP

Shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, as Miss Ada Taylor was ascending the U street ferry slip, she was crowded to one side by a team and in her anxiety to escape injury from it, failed to notice a defective place in the planking upon which she stepped, and was precipitated to the bottom land In the fall the front portion of her leg, between the knee and ankle, came in contact with some sharp substance, which penetrated to the bone and made a severe wound of an angular figure She was conveyed to her residence, corner of Eleventh and W streets where Dr. Du Bois attended her The facts, as stated by the lady and others, go to show that she was entirely blameless for the accident

A NIGHT BLOOMING CEREUS

One of these Plants at the Residence of Mrs George Woodward Unfolds its Beautiful Flowers Before a Number of Admirers

The constant arrival and departure of visitors at the residence of George Woodward, No 175 Alder street, last evening, was calculated to give neighbors the impression that a reception on a grand scale was in progress. The attraction, however was a rare and beautiful flower of which most people have heard but which comparatively few have seen—the night blooming cereus Eight years since Mrs. Woodward brought a slip of the plant from the east, and during all these years it has done nothing but grow slowly to a bushy plant some three feet in hight, and sit around and look "ornery" About two weeks since a couple of flower buds appeared which developed rapidly, one of them coming to perfection and blooming Thursday night and the other last night The plant has been kept out in the yard all summer under a cherry tree. As all are aware the cereus is a branch of the cactus family It has the thin, flat leathery leaves common to many species of the cactus family The scientific name of this species is cereus grandiflorus It is a native of South America and is remarkable for the size and beauty of its flowers, and their fragrance, and still more so for its habit of blooming at night. The flower buds spring from the thin edge of the leaf The stem grows drooping down to a length of about nine inches, when it turns up bearing a large bud at the end. About 8 o'clock in the evening this bud begins to open and at midnight has fully expanded into a large and beautiful flower which loads the air with perfume Then it begins to fade and by daylight hangs wilted and close on its stem The flower consists of several whorls of white waxen petals about four inches in length, surrounding a large number of stamens the ends of which curve upward, and from the center projects a long pistil with a singular star shaped stigma. The sepals are eight or ten in number and curl back as the flower expands The blossom can almost be seen to grow so rapid is its expansion and when fully grown it will comfortably fill the inside of a common lamp shade A large number of friends of Mr and Mrs Woodward witnessed the blooming of the flower last night, and many who had expressed a wish to see it were not notified, owing to the unexpectedly sudden development. There are a number of buds coming out, and the plant will give another exhibition in about two weeks, no postponement on account of the weather The plant was evidently intended by nature for the joy and solace of morning newspaper men, who could enjoy its beauty and fragrance and watch it expand without interfering with their regular hours of rest.

MINERAL SPECIMENS WANTED

An Appeal to those Most Interested to Send on Ore Properly Marked for Exhibition Throughout the East and at London.

PORTLAND July 23

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I believe that in the development and working of the mining interests of Oregon great inducements are offered to capital seeking investment, and I also believe that much more should be done to bring to the knowledge of the world the extent and richness of these interests. To this end I desire to solicit from parties interested in minerals, of whatsoever kind and wheresoever located in Oregon, contributions of specimens for exhibit in the car going east about the middle of August, and which will be added to the exhibit at New Orleans during the coming winter and go to the American exhibit at London during the summer of 1886, these specimens need not be large, but each will need to be marked, giving name of ore, its richness, and the location of the mine, and if possible the extent of it, with name of owner. I am sure that much good will come to Oregon through a proper display of her minerals in these exhibits, and I trust that a general and liberal response will be made to this request.

I will guarantee to do my part in making the exhibit if I am but furnished with the material, and surely those personally interested in the success of Oregon should see that the specimens are furnished as they are the ones to be largely and directly benefited therefrom Before closing, I desire to ask what has become of the building of the proposed reduction works that was being talked of here last winter? There is certainly no one thing that could be done that would do so much to develop the mining interests of Oregon as this, and would unquestionably be a [illegible] their money into it I sincerely hope that this most important project has not been abandoned

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

OREGON.

The Albany Democrat will be 21 years old next week.

Mrs. Rachel Ritter, an Oregon pioneer of 1853, died at Albany, July 19, aged 64 years.

Farmers in Linn county have nearly all finished cutting their grain, and threshing is well under way.

Around Canyon City panthers are becoming numerous, and fears are entertained that they will commence killing colts and other stock.

Some graceless scamp put eight dead puppies in the spring at Soda Springs a few days ago, and not until many gallons had been drank was the act discovered.

Last Sunday afternoon as Samuel Rice, the 15 year old son of L. C. Rice, of Brownsville, was riding in company with a comrade named Temple, a race was proposed. As Rice's horse reached a small bridge it fell and threw the boy, who struck on his head, fracturing his skull and otherwise injuring himself so badly that death ensued in a few minutes.

Corvallis Gazette: Two hunting parties from Corvallis one day this week succeeded in bagging over 100 grouse, according to reports. W. G. Campbell and Zeph Job were the champions of the different parties, they having killed nearly one-half of the entire number of birds. If the Oregon legislature would protect the feathered tribe, it will do well at its next session to enact a law prohibiting such men from hunting.

The first salmon of the season were caught on the Coquille last week. If those caught are a sample of the season's run, says the Marshfield News, the canneries will be supplied with a good quality of fish, as they are large and fat. The sea lions are not so numerous at the entrance to the river as formerly, from the fact that they have been driven off and their numbers so diminished by hunters; hence we may look for a big run of salmon this fall.

Mr. Shelly of Independence has a very unfortunate nose, says the West Side. When a boy he broke it while playing ball. A few years later he was thrown from a horse and broke it again. On Tuesday evening his two year old child, whom he was holding on his lap, hit it a blow with his head, breaking it the third time. Mr. Shelly has concluded to give the unfortunate nose another chance, and now he has it ornamented with strips of court plaster.

Independence West Side: Warehouses all over the county are being repaired and refitted to receive this year's crop. Most of them have been emptied of last year's crop, although there is still some wheat held in store for an advance. The Independence warehouses will probably all be run by their former managers and will accommodate several hundred thousand bushels of grain. It is thought that a larger amount of grain will be stored in this city this year than ever before.

A 12-year-old son of Lindsey Ridgeway, a Mill creek, Polk county, farmer, was seriously, if not fatally injured by a runaway accident while riding a sulky rake in his father's hay field last Friday. It seems that the boy was jolted off the seat and fell in front of the rake, scaring the horses and causing them to run away. He was dragged over the rough ground for about three hundred yards before the horse was caught. When picked up his body was found to be terribly mangled and bruised by the sharp teeth of the rake. Life was despaired of at last accounts.

Heppner Gazette: While handling sawlogs at the head of Rhea creek, last Thursday, D. A. Hamilton was very severely injured. On removing a block from in front of a log it came suddenly rolling upon him, and as he sprang to get out of the way it caught his heels and threw him flat on his back. As the log came rolling up his legs Mr. Hamilton had presence of mind to turn on to his side, and the projection of his hip stopped the progress of the log and prevented it from going entirely over him. As it was, he was very severely injured.

Marshfield News: Nellie Webber, between 6 and 7 years of age, daughter of F. S. Webber of this place, was seriously burned at her home last Monday morning. It seems her mother had built a fire in the stove in the kitchen and went down stairs. Shortly afterwards Nellie went close to the stove, and it is supposed a spark from the wood set her clothes on fire. Her screams woke her father, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, and assisted by Mrs. T. G. Owen, who also came to the rescue, the little girl was carried to the bedroom, where the fire was extinguished with the aid of blankets. The child was badly burned on the left arm and also on the abdomen. Mrs. Owen's right arm was also severely burned and so were Mr. Webber's hands.

IDAHO.

Eagle Rock now has 1400 people. In 1883 it had 300; in 1884, 700.

A Chinaman named Chang Ling Gain hung himself in the Boise City jail last Saturday night, with a silk sash he wore.

At Warren's, Idaho, about seventy-five white and 300 Chinese miners still stay with the old camp. A placer claim on the Meadows recently sold for $7000. New placer claims have been struck on Big creek.

The Camas gold belt is looking more prosperous than ever. The Camas No. 2 is employing twenty men. The owners have sunk a shaft sixty-five feet deep, at the bottom of which they have a vein of ore six feet wide, which assays $120 per ton, and which will mill at least $100.

Challis Messenger: Chas. Clifford was thrown from the Bonanza stage on Wednesday last, and had his head cut badly and his ankle sprained almost to breaking. The accident occurred near Pine summit, and it seems to have been caused by the recklessness of the driver, who at the steepest place took his foot off the brake and commenced to whip the horses. The The driver was uninjured, and after unhitching the team after the upset, rode off very unconcernedly, leaving the unfortunate passenger, who was unable to move, lying by the roadside, bleeding profusely, and begging the driver to get him some water from a spring on the road not over 100 yards distant. The driver continued his ride, and has not been heard of since. Mr. Clifford was picked up by a passing team shortly after and was brought to town.

WASHINGTON.

The Walla Walla Statesman is informed that the railroad between Moscow and Colfax will be completed as soon as possible, and work will commence at once. The road up the Pataha to Pomeroy will also be built as soon as the money can be obtained in New York for the purpose.

A little thirteen-year-old son of W. H. Hale of Goldendale met with a fearful accident last Thursday. It seems that the little fellow was on a load of hay, and when the pitcher had finished loading he pitched his fork on the load without noticing where the boy was; one tine of the fork penetrated the temple of the boy, piercing the temple bone, and remaining there until it was pulled out.

The Goldendale Sentinel tells the following which, if true, will certainly afford the fool killer the finest field for operation of the season: The other day W. S. LeFever concluded to saw off a ridge pole that reached out several feet from the gable end of his barn; he got astride of the pole and thoughtlessly begun to saw away between himself and the barn. When he finished sawing the pole came down and so did LeFever, head-foremost, about twelve or fourteen feet. The result was a heavy fall and a badly sprained wrist. LeFever was almost as absent-minded as the fellow who came home at night, put his dog to bed and kicked himself out of doors.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Several fires are still raging in the lumber woods in the vicinity of Burrard inlet. A fire swept through the camp of the Hastings Saw Mill Company on False creek, doing considerable damage to roads and timber. One barn was burned.

Victoria Times: From a gentleman direct from Comox, it is learned that the hay crop in that district is about up to the average, and that it is nearly all housed. The grain fields are looking remarkably well, and the return will be first-class. During the season quite a number of new settlers have located in the valley.

A Chinaman committed suicide by jumping off the Esquimalt wharf, at Victoria, last Monday morning, about 2 o'clock. The look-out on H. M. ship Constance saw the plash in the water and gave the alarm. The body was recovered about 10 o'clock the next day, and was found to be that of a Chinaman of middle age, with a short whisker on his chin. Deceased wore two or three pairs of overalls, several shirts and had his head bandaged round, showing a determination to die at all hazards.

MONTANA.

The Powder River Company has decided to transfer a large number, perhaps 25,000 cattle, from the Powder river country to the British possessions, just over the Montana line, 5000 head having already been started.

About 80,000 pounds of wool have been shipped from Livingston this year, and the prospects indicate about 400,000 pounds as the total for the season. It is estimated at Big Timber that about 1,000,000 pounds will be shipped from there this year. This is a great increase on the amount handled last year at the two stations.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE.
Unequaled.
Dr. E. M. ALEXANDER, Fannettsburgh, Pa., says: "I think Horsford's Acid Phosphate is not equaled in any other preparation of phosphorus.

ALBANY NOTES.

Miss Bertie Enos, of your city, is visiting at home.

Miss Mollie Woods is visiting friends at Independence.

The vault of the new bank is being built by B. W. Cundiff.

The wife of Rev. Mc Allister, of this city, is quite sick with brain fever.

Mr. W. F. Read and family have gone to Fish Lake to rusticate several weeks.

Twenty-five cents a box will be paid for picking hops in Linn county this fall.

Mrs. Edward McAfee, of Salem, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. B. Barr.

Mr. D. Sanders has returned from Eastern Oregon to remain during the summer.

Last Monday, July 20, George Grisendorfer stored the first load of wheat in the city.

Mr. Carl Luderman left, by last steamer, for California where he will remain several weeks.

Yesterday Mr. T. J. Overman received, direct from the factory, a splendid 50 inch Victor bicycle.

Grand Patriarch D. S. F. Buick officially visited Orgeana Encampment No. 5, I. O. O. F. last evening.

Miss Bessie Turrell arrived from San Francisco by the last steamer, and will remain some time in the city.

On the evening of August 8 the Nashville students will give an entertainment under the charge of the G. A. R.

W. J. Mcntieth, T. J. Overman and E. L. Thompson and wife returned home last evening from a trip to the bay.

The tolling of the fire bell and flags at half-mast yesterday announce the death of the nation's greatest general—U. S. Grant.

Mr. T. J. Cline, county immigration agent, is collecting specimens of grain, fruit and vegetables to be sent to Portland for the car exhibit east.

City Recorder, N. J. Henton, and E. J. Lanning have each been confined to their beds for several days with sickness but are now able to be about.

Saturday, August 15, the sheriff will sell at the court house, Thomas Montieth's property in this city. The sale will be the largest of the kind ever made in the county.

John Brush and son have removed their extensive wire works back to their old stand on First street, where they will remain if sufficient power to run their machinery can be obtained.

Last Sunday morning a small fire was discovered in the roof of Mr. Pearce's house just across the river. The flames were soon extinguished by the bucket brigade, with little damage done.

One day last week Albany had a very narrow escape from a destructive conflagration. Burning phosphorus started a fire in Foshay & Mason's warehouse which contained over 5,000 gallons of coal oil gasoline and other oils. Fortunately the fire was discovered in time to be extinguished before gaining headway, or else the two large brick blocks on First street would have been burned.

A young gentleman and lady friend, of this city, went to Sodaville last Sunday and took with them a number of bottles, in which they proposed to bring home a quantity of medicinal water. After filling the bottles, the couple started for a walk, and while gone two young men emptied the bottles and filled them with water. Now every morning a lady drinks soda water (?) and highly prizes its life giving qualities, though she says its does taste a little flat.

FOREST GROVE ITEMS.

FOREST GROVE, July 24.

Rev. Mr. Mills of the Congregational church is passing his vacation in California.

Professor Edwards and wife leave for Ocean park on Monday to be absent a couple of weeks.

The city flag is at half mast in respect for the death of General Grant. A feeling of sadness pervades the entire community.

Professor J. W. Marsh and wife left on Monday for their farm in Clackamas county, where they will spend a week or two.

Threshing machines are on the move and will begin operations next week. Grain is ripening fast, and it is thought that the harvest will be principally over by Sept. 1.

J. M. Garrison has in his poultry yards about 100 young fowls of the Wyandotte variety. As egg producers they are bound to take the end. From January 15 to July 15 his six hens have yielded 756 eggs or 21 to the hen per month. Aside from their utility, they are conceded to be the handsomest fowl in existence.

Miss Lucia, daughter of Mrs. Dr. Marsh, returned home on Wednesday after a year's absence at the east. The winter was passed in school at Sharpsville, Penn., the remainder of the time among friends at Bloomfield, Ohio. Her increased skill upon the piano plainly indicates that she has given much careful thought to her music as well as other branches.

On last evening Professor W. W. Ferrin and his fair bride were the recipients of a serenade by the village brass band at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Marsh, the bride's sister. After a few choice selections had been rendered the boys were invited in, where a bountiful feast of good things was served. After luncheon and a song or two by Professor Ferrin and wife and some instrumental music by Miss Lucia Marsh, the company bowed themselves out, wishing the newly married couple as much happiness as is ever allowed to mortals here below.

A COMPANION FOR THOOKYDEEDS

VANCOUVER, W. T., July 23.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Your "Thookydeeds" judge of Salem has his counterpart here. He comes from "Olympiur," is conducting a "tencher's institoot," and has some "ideers" of his own.

In his lecture last Saturday evening he gave us an extract from Xenophon's "Memorabille" of Socrates.

In arranging his programme on Monday morning, he said that the order of exercises might be changed at any time, but that such change would not create any "confection."

We don't think that "we had ought" to keep him all to ourselves, but that a wider circle of admirers should be opened to him through the columns of THE OREGONIAN. MEMINI.

Marrying for Money.

Temple Bar.

I had a conversation recently with a very clever and attractive New York lady, who, among other misfortunes was afflicted with $2,000,000. She said she would never marry, because she would not believe that any man wanted her for any other reason than her gold. "And what," I asked, "do you lose thereby? If a gentleman takes you because you are so pretty, the smallpox, a fall from a horse, any accident may spoil your beauty, and where will his love be if it is for that reason only he took you? If another one falls in love with you because you are so fresh, so young, so lively, time is safe to destroy all that, and your hold on him is lost. But if he takes you for your money, you need only beware of dangerous speculations, and you will always keep the charm that brought him to your feet, and you have nothing to fear." "That is one way of looking at it," she said; and so completely did she embrace my opinion that barely a year after I received an invitation to her wedding with an English nobleman.

Miss May Ulrich, 135 Southall street, Louisville, Ky., states that she suffered four years with rheumatism in her shoulder, and received more relief from St. Jacobs Oil than anything she ever tried.

Agreeable to Take.
No medicine is so agreeable to take as Healy's Cod Liver Beef and Iron; thousands drink it daily to keep themselves well and strong.

COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, July 24.

Cloudy and cool weather during early morning is followed by clear and warm.

Overland receipts include 300 cs coal oil, 4 cs cigars, 10 bbls glucose, 10 bxs hams, 2 bxs bacon, 200 hf bxs soda, 300 do saleratus.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 362 ctls wheat, 164 bbls flour, 96 ctls oats, 210 lbs wool, 72 cs eggs 3 pkgs butter. Also 4,096 ctls wheat, 600 bbls flour, 192 ctls oats, 108 ctls bran, 33,487 lbs of wool from the eastern section.

FREIGHTS—The Burmah arrived to-day to load salmon in Meyer, Wilson & Co's line. The market is without new feature. No futures reported.

WHEAT—The cargoes market is in neglect and Liverpool spot lower. Chicago and New York advanced slightly at noon. In our own market nothing of interest is to be reported. Values show no change.

OATS—To-day's sales were at last quotations, the improved feeling here not being strong enough to influence prices. Holders as a rule are more confident.

CHICKENS—Supplies somewhat larger but values are not affected, and we still quote up to $4.50 for old and $3 for young.

EGGS—Stock is liberal and market weak at 15c.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Governments quiet and strong for 4s, and steady for other issues. Stocks were again very active. Prices were irregular at the opening, and in early dealings the market inclined to be heavy on pressure to sell by small operators. The decline, which was for only small fractions, was soon checked, and there was a rally which carried prices during the first hour to the highest quotations of the day. With few exceptions the rally amounted to less than 1 per cent., and from that time to the close of the board this afternoon the general tendency was downward. The market closed very weak, at or near the lowest prices of the day.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, as a specific for indigestion, stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopoeia have been exhausted without, at least, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland the Bitters act with regular distinctness, regulating and invigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

From Pole to Pole
AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood.

The Harpooner's Story.
New Bedford, June 1, 1882.
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime-juice was accidentally destroyed, but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA and gave us that. We recovered on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought about by any other treatment for Scurvy, and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention in your Almanac of your Sarsaparilla being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this, and so send you the facts.
Respectfully yours, RALPH Y. WINGATE

The Trooper's Experience.
Masera, Basutoland (S. Africa,) March 7, 1883.
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.—Gentlemen: I have much pleasure to testify to the great value of your Sarsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-sores." I had those sores for some time. I was advised to take your Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made my sores disappear rapidly, and I am now quite well.
Yours truly, T. E. BODEN,
Trooper, Cape Mounted Riflemen.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
Is the only thoroughly effective blood-purifier, the only medicine that eradicates the poisons of Scrofula, Mercury, and Contagious Disease from the system.
